What our customers are saying...

Pidj has been a life saver for our rec department. We save so much time with one-to-one and mass texting. We're far more effective promoting events or programs and reaching out to coaches, parents, and volunteers.

Pidj has been great for our city. We can stay in touch better with patrons and love the two-way texting. If there is an issue with a program, we're able to let people know immediately without them having to check email or voicemail.

Pidj provides powerful and easy-to-use texting that allows us to communicate beyond flyers and email blasts. It's helped expand our community reach and has been a positive boost to our communication throughout the pandemic.
